

Joe Leverich, CPA – Joe is president and managing partner at Leverich Group, a local CPA and management consulting firm. He began his practice 30 years ago by providing a wide range of quality accounting services to businesses, and began offering specialized services to construction companies. Joe is a recognized expert on management issues, financial matters and estate and retirement planning, including assisting companies with success strategies. He manages and supervises audits, reviews, and compilations for over 100 clients. Joe has written several articles and has made presentations to a variety of audiences. He is active in the community and has served on many boards including the Salvation Army and YMCA.